Introducing advanced visual health screening solutions

Nexus, our new digital health platform, is specifically designed to connect all eye care professionals, even remotely, allowing you to bring ophthalmologists' expertise to patients in any eye screening location.

It's easy to take for granted the ability to see, to forget how much our vision shapes how we experience the world around us. That is, unless your quality of life has been impacted by a vision impairment or blindness.

Globally, at least 2.2 BILLION people have a vision impairment. Of those, at least 1 billion people haven't taken steps to prevent further damage or addressed their impairment. Having easy access to quality eye care facilitates early diagnosis, which significantly reduces the risk of blindness or serious vision impairment.[1,2]

Due to the aging population and the growing number of chronic patients, the demand for eye health services is rapidly raising.
